

International All Star Federation, (The IASF), membership process
(English version)

The IASF EP member application process is your gateway to becoming a part of an esteemed community of the worlds best competition event producers and professionals in the field. Gain access to exclusive resources, networking opportunities, and collaboration possibilities.

To embark on your journey as an IASF Event Producer, the first step is completing the IASF EP Membership Application. This crucial requirement is designed to initiate the process and evaluate aspiring event producers. Upon successful selection, aspiring Event Producers will have the opportunity to delve deeper into the process.

Upon preliminary acceptance, additional comprehensive documents will be shared, providing valuable insights and further outlines to our EP member guidelines and Worlds Bid event outline. Moreover, those who make it through the initial stages will receive a prestigious invitation to the IASF World Championships. This invitation will primarily be for an in-person interview, where you may discuss their aspirations and business with the IASF.

Apply now and join us in shaping the future of IASF!
