

IASF Third Party Credentialing Program Requirements:

For The 2024 Cheerleading World Championships proof of coaches credentials is mandatory. In order to make this process as seamless as possible for all coaches attending worlds, the IASF will be providing opportunities for pre-existing education platforms to apply for their credentials to be approved. Below are the requirements for third party education platforms seeking IASF approval.

In order for a third party credentialing program to be approved by the IASF, they must meet the following mandatory criteria:

- Must align with the IASF rule sets (minor modifications would be permitted)
- All components must align with the IASF ethos of progressions in education including a requirement to have previous level knowledge and experience before completion of further qualifications (from Level 2 and above)
- Must have visible course education
- Must provide education and testing in all levels required by coaches for their teams competing at the IASF Worlds
- Must include both elements of primary child safety, development and coaches education
- Testing component: must include a substantial testing component where coaches complete the exam (online or in-person) exclusive of assistance from the course educators
- Must have an accessible database of qualified coaches for IASF verification
